One for the Baby

A savings account with this bank--to bear interest, compounded twice a year, you may do it with one dollar; and will give you a nice little steel bank to take home and drop your "loose change" into.

By the time the baby gets ready for her debut or his entrance into business, this bank account will be something worth while.

CONSTITUTIONAL AMENDMENTS

One of the amendments to be voted upon August 1 relates to juries. It is to be submitted in accordance with the senate joint resolution No. 22, approved March 11, 1915, and the title of it on the ballot will be as follows:

Proposed amendment to Section 13, Article 2, Constitution, providing that juries in courts of record other than county court, shall consist of 8 men, except in capital cases to consist of 12 men; juries in the county court and courts not of record to consist of 6 men; in all civil cases and criminal cases less than felonies, three-fourths of jury may render verdict; also that legislature may provide for rendering final judgment in the appellate court without remanding cause for retrial by jury as to the facts.

Be it Enacted by the Legislature of the State of Oklahoma:

That the following amendment to Section 13, Article 2, of the Constitution of this state is hereby proposed; said amendment with the year and name thereon to be entered in the journals of the respective bodies of the legislature and referred by the secretary of state to the people for their approval or rejection, to-wit: "The right of trial by jury shall be and remain inviolate, and a jury for the trial of civil and criminal cases other than capital offenses in courts of record, other than county courts, shall consist of eight men, but in county courts and courts not of record, a jury shall consist of six men, in the trial of all capital cases the jury shall consist of twelve men; provided, that the legislature may provide for rendering a final judgment on appeal in the appellate court without remanding the cause for retrial by a jury as to the facts. In civil cases and in all criminal cases less than felonies, three-fourths of the whole number of jurors concurring shall have power to render a verdict. In all other cases the entire number of jurors must concur to render a verdict. In case a verdict is rendered by less than the whole number of jurors, the verdict shall be in writing and signed by each juror concurring therein.

Unless present indications are misleading, the presidential campaign is not going to be in full bloom till late in the season. On the whole, it will perhaps be just as well for us to go on attending to our business till a month or so before the election and then we can all get into the "whirlwind" finish.

"ROLL YOUR OWN" FOR THE LIVELIEST OF ALL SMOKES!

Make Your Cigarettes Yourself with Famous "Bull" Durham—It's the Latest and Greatest Smoking Fad

That smart, snappy fad of "rolling your own" cigarettes with "Bull" Durham tobacco has captured the country.

Smokers everywhere and in every walk of life have taken it up, and wherever you go you see live, virile, sturdy men smoking fresh-rolled "Bull" Durham cigarettes.

"Bull" Durham is the best tobacco in the world for cigarettes. It is pure Virginia-Carolina leaf, with a mellow-sweet flavor that is distinctive and an aroma that is unique. It makes a cigarette which simply can't be equalled for thorough enjoyment.

Added to the wonderful smoking quality of "Bull" Durham, you also have the satisfaction of putting your own personality into the shaping of your cigarette. And you know that it's always fresh.

Get a 5c sack of "Bull" Durham with free package of "papers". Try "rolling your own". A little practice will give you the knack. Then you'll know why this fad is so widespread—so tremendously popular with smart smokers.

UNCLE SAM AND HIS SOLDIERS.

And now it develops that there are other difficulties connected with "millions of citizen soldiers springing to arms" when the nation is in danger.

It is highly significant but by no means creditable commentary on the policies of Uncle Sam that hundreds of national guardsmen who were called to the border left dependent families behind, without any provision for their support.

Mr. Shepherd, the United Press correspondent, who has been on the battlefronts in Europe for nearly two years, tells us that no nation across the water has been as negligent of the welfare of the soldiers' families as we have been. It is not because Uncle Sam is cruel but because he has never given much attention to military affairs and has seldom been compelled to face the problems presented by sending large bodies of men away from home to serve their country.

Herein is another argument for preparedness, that should not be overlooked. Try as hard as we may, there is no assurance that our nation will not be driven to take up arms. Only by a close scratch did we escape a conflict with Mexico following the Carrizal incident. If Carranza had not met the demands of our government, willingly or unwillingly, we would have been compelled to fight. The cost of going to war without being prepared for it is bound to be more frightful, measured in money or human lives, than it is when a nation is equipped for prompt and effective action.

We have seen how long it takes to get our citizen soldiers ready for service in the field, and after weeks devoted to mobilization, drilling and collecting necessary supplies and equipment, we still find that we have overlooked one of the most important parts of the business, the care of the soldiers' families. If our Mexican troubles have served no other purpose they should have opened the eyes of the nation to the necessity for sensible preparedness.

One of the easiest ways for American citizens to waste energy—as we see it—is to try to persuade John Bull to be lenient toward Sir Roger Casement. Also, it is another way of butting into an affair that doesn't come under our jurisdiction.

Come to think of it, it has been comparatively quiet on the border and in Mexico for quite a spell—a condition that is usually the precursor of a storm.

It seems that Villa has no objection whatever to being "located" but he obstinately refuses to be found or captured.

EXPRESS PACKETTES.

Avaunt, ye peevy foolish fears,
And all ye woeful, dry those tears;
In vain o'er drouthy days we raved
For rain has "come"—the corn is saved.

Yep, it was a nubbins spoiler.

Register a home-run for J. Pluv.

Of course, "Uncle Dick" claims credit for it.

Si Simp says he notices that a heavy rain always settles the dust.

After all, the weather forecaster isn't such a bad sort of fellow.

But probably nobody seriously objected to his sweet slumber being disturbed by the patter of the rain drops.

And sometimes you will find a fellow who is foolish enough to buy a home when actually he has no auto.

Another difference is that a man doesn't have to belong to the painters union to keep his complexion on straight.

You should have seen how serenely "Dad" Mattos was puffing his old pipe on the morning after the rain. He looked reasonably well pleased.

An Oklahoma City newspaper reports that men's collars are going up. Also, unless there is a radical change in temperature they are likely to come down.

The fellows who bought the Prisco for about $42,000.00 are welcome to it as far as the Packagetter is personally concerned. Why under the sun would anybody want a railroad if he had that much money?

Horoscope for the Day:—The Big Dipper stubbornly refuses to budge from its comfortable position in the northern part of the heavens. As long as it hangs there it can be seen any night with the naked eye unless it is cloudy. All sensible astrologers say this is a sure sign that a man should not make a promise to his wife unless he means to keep it; otherwise, good night!

A STOLEN SMILE 'ER TWO.

Politics—"I always like to meet a fellow who came from a farm," remarked Congressman Flubdub.

"Yes?"

"Yes. You can advise him to go back to it if he isn't a success, and congratulate him on leaving it if he is."—Louisville Courier-Journal.

A Perfect Epicure.

Mrs. Brown—"My husband, he's a very dainty feeder.

Mrs. Green—"Is e? Now my old man is jest so much the other way; he's a perfect epicure, he'll eat anything."—The Tatler (London).

The Honeymoon Order.

Grocer—"The honeymoon is over in the house on the hill.

Assistant—"How do you know?"

Grocer—"The bride has just phoned in an order for onions."—Birmingham Age-Herald.

BOY'S INVESTMENT PAYS
TEN THOUSAND PER CENT

"Last spring a year ago," says Farm and Fireside, "a ten-year-old neighbor boy was given 10 cents by his grandmother. He purchased a packet of good cucumber seed with his money and grew a nice patch of cucumbers for the local village market. His crop of cucumbers brought him a little over $6 in money, all of which his mother allowed him to keep and spend as he pleased.

"With $1 of his money this boy purchased a few little things for himself, and with the other $5 he purchased a ewe lamb. By this spring his ewe lamb had grown into a mature mother sheep, and she gave birth to twin lambs. So now the boy has three sheep from his investment. The mother sheep is now worth $10, and the

WILLIAMS REPLIES TO SWAN'S LETTER

Chickasha, Okla., July 21, 1916.

Hon. A. K. Swan,

Chickasha, Okla.

Dear Swan:

Your note in the Express to hand. There remains but one more week for campaigning, and I have made engagements over the county that will prevent me making but few if any of your appointments. I know of no issues between us that necessitate discussion.

I have no disposition to enter into any controversy or criticisms of others who seek the nomination for comty attorney. I am making this race on my own merits, and not upon the faults or frailties, if any, of others. My claims are based upon 22 years residence, a knowledge of conditions acquired by experience as a lawyer, a judge and a citizen. However, I will try to be with you at the Chickasha appointment for Saturday, July 29th.

Truly your friend,

N. M. WILLIAMS.

BILIOUSNESS AND STOMACH TROUBLE.

"Two years ago I suffered from frequent attacks of stomach trouble and biliousness," writes Miss Emma Verbyke, Lima, Ohio. "I could eat very little food that agreed with me and I became so dizzy and sick at my stomach at times that I had to take hold of something to keep from falling. Seeing Chamberlain's Tablets advertised I decided to try them. I improved rapidly. Obtainable everywhere.—Adv. d&w
